Highly Important to Farmers.

HAVING purchased the right to use BOWMER'S Method of making MANURE in all the towns in the County, not previously disposed of, west of Penobscot, and south of Piscataquis, rivers, I am ready to sell the same, by towns or individual rights, as may best suit purchasers.

When it is taken into consideration, that one ton of dry straw can, in the space of 7 days, be converted into from six to eight loads of rich manure, manifest for corn-hills;—that green vegetables and turf, can be made into manure of equal value, in ten days—and, that the high temperature produced by fermentation destroys all obnoxious seeds, this invaluable method may be fairly considered as forming a new era in Agriculture! That the foregoing result above been fre quently realized by Bowmer's process, I am prepared to show by testimony from scientific and practical farmers in various sections of the country.

Single rights will be sold for the moderate price of four dollars, and the purchasers will be furnished (gratuitously) with a book describing the process of making the foregoing, together with many other kinds of compost manures, hitherto unknown in this part of the country. To those who purchase by towns, or to private companies, my terms will be as low as in any other section of the State.

Persons at a distance, by forwarding four dollars (post paid), will be promptly furnished with a single right and book as aforesaid.

The subscriber will prepare Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all the necessary Papers and Drawings, will make researches into American and Foreign works, for establishing the validity or nullity of inventions, and render advice on all legal and scientific matters respecting the same. Patents secured in Europe and other countries.

By application at this office, inventors are saved the time and expense of a journey to Washington and delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. The experience of fifteen year's practice—an extensive collection of rare works, documents, decisions, &c. on mechanical subjects and the Patent Laws—and patents of different countries, collected almost from the time this office has been established, and to which daily additions are being made, together with accounts here kept of inventions patented at Washington, enable me to afford important assistance and information to inventors desirous of securing Patents, which in others or my absence would be difficult of attainment.

Bangor and Waterville Rail-Road.

The company of Engineers who commenced the survey of the route of the Bangor and Waterville Railroad about the middle of November have reached this city and will probably complete their surveys this evening The Engineers are, Messrs Wilde, Crocker, Allen and Stacy, accompanied for most of the time, by George W Chamberlain Esq They have with them two chainmen and three axemen

The route proves to be very favorable and from Waterville to this city is more favorable than any equal distance that has yet been surveyed in New England The amount of damages for the right of way will be small and the people generally upon the line feel a highly favorable interest in the advancement of the enterprise

The cost of the road from this city to Waterville has generally been estimated at one million of dollars but it is now well ascertained that seven hundred thousand dollars will be amply sufficient to set the road in operation Of this sum at least two hundred thousand dollars can be obtained West of the Kennebec fifty thousand between the Kennebec and this city and if two hundred thousand dollars stock can be taken in this city the company will organize and proceed with the work

The survey which has been made is one of great accuracy Every inch of the line has been levelled and when the report is published it will be seen that no pains have been spared to master the whole subject and to give it in our view This certainly is much better than any partial survey or any general estimate since in a matter of large moment nothing for doubt or cavil or deception

The road enters this city through the gulley near the old burial ground on Main street And the depot will probably be situated near the river in the vicinity of Bennett's wharf

The very favorable result of the survey and the importance of the undertaking to this city and the surrounding country should encourage our men of capital to engage in the enterprise of completing this road The monies required for building it can mostly be expended among the people on the route for labor and materials used in building it, and thus the great work can go on without exhausting the currency like sending money abroad Those who labor and furnish materials upon the road, and who are interested in properly along the line, can well afford to invest a portion of their receipts in the road and in this way each one doing a little, the work will succeed and the steam whistle of the long train from Boston and Montreal will greet the ears of our people with glad surprise

☞ The N. Y Merchant's Ledger states that the market is flooded with common ginghams and lawns, the manufacture of the English manufacturers, a sort of trash the most of which is neither fit to buy, sell, or give away and is sent here because it cannot be sold at home Unless our people refuse to wear nothing but a high protective tariff will save them from their wholesale English swindle It can be called by no other name—for, most of it is made in imitation of rich and fashionable goods, and as we are followers of French and English fashions our people buy what appears to be the real article, when in reality it is counterfeit, and should be so treated As long as we follow foreign fashions we need some kind of protection against their rascality

Our own manufacturers have driven the English De Laines out of the market altogether, and are now selling them at 30 per cent less than the importers ever sold them But De Laine have suddenly gone out of fashion, and our people now must have ginghams and lawns, because, forsooth, they are fashionable, and in order to do as they do in England, wear their coat off clothing at the price of now No wonder English importers are for free trade

☞ Mr Spring will commence his course of Astronomical Lectures, with his beautiful and greatly improved apparatus on Thursday evening of next week He intends to put the terms exceedingly low We trust, therefore, that all classes will unite in giving him a cordial greeting with overflowing houses

☞ The Ladies of the Universalist Church, it will be seen by a notice in another column, will give a grand social Levee at Market Hall this evening, to which they invite their friends and the public generally We learn that every thing has been arranged with admirable grace, and that the entertainment will be highly agreeable

☞ One of our attentive readers gravely asked us that the question mentioned by us yesterday —'Does the righteousness of the present age exceed the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees?'—has actually been decided in the negative

☞ The Montpelier Watchman the leading Whig paper in Vermont has placed the name of James Madison at the head of its columns as its choice for President In accordance with the Judge's admirable letter, that he is again on ground fast

☞ We hearty thank Hon W R S Moor, of the U S Senate, for documents received through his kind attentions

☞ The Governor of Georgia has appointed Herschell B Johnson Esq to fill the vacancy in the Senate of the U States in the place of Walter T Colquitt, resigned

The Effect.

Slavery paralyzes industry—wherever it exists, its tendency is to make manual labor disreputable This effect is fearfully shown by the following fact, related in the Louisville (Ky) Examiner

'The other day the Legislature of the State refused to admit a colored mechanic to move into it from Virginia The reasons assigned were various, but in uniting them, and as shrewd, were these that we wanted more white mechanics, and that we should never have them until labor was made reputable—There is no doubt of the fact that slavery drives away thousands of our people, and keeps thousands from settling among us because it degrades labor A letter from Warren county says:

'I desire to bring up my children to work, but I am not able to do it now—and if we cannot get a subscription, I must go away I am very much embarrassed to leave Kentucky, and I will not do so if there is any hope, though if others be none, I will move to a free state.'

The decision of this plain man is the decision of thousands, either silently made or openly expressed We could quote from six or seven letters now before us, and just received, all announcing the fact We put it then, to the good sense, the patriotism, the interest of slaveholders and non slaveholders and ask whether the cause which produces such disastrous results ought not to be removed

EXPEDITION TO MOUNT KATAHDN.

Concluded

At four o'clock out of the party went down to the camp to prepare fuel for the Sabbath. Our guides and the gunner remained at the head of the slide all night, and kept a fire with old roots Yet it was pressmen that they had now and then, a little cold comfort The result of their stay is thus set forth by Mr Keep

'On Sabbath morning the eastern horizon was clear of clouds, and we looked anxiously for the sun Just before it came up, a bright streak appeared of silver whiteness, like the reflected light of the moon We could see the farther outline of land quite plain, and for a short distance beyond was this silvery streak Soon a small arc of the sun appeared above this bright line I watched and was hardly able to control my emotions while the whole scene in sight.—On Saturday night a mist ran down our view of the country around was more distinct and enchanting A boundless wilderness in all directions, much of the view being south of the lakes Of the latter not far from two hundred are to be seen dotting the landscape In one of them we can count one hundred islands Soon after sunrise on Sabbath morning we went down to the camp to spend the day with the company

That holy morning found us refreshed and somewhat prepared to appreciate our peculiar circumstances The weather was charming—The air resounded with the pleasing murmur of the Avalanche Brook that flowed down over its bed of rocks, nor was the song of birds rendered by Canada hares stirred the beautiful foliage of the kindling woods Impressive stillness reigned, and the whole scene was adapted to awaken happy and exuberant emotions.

Early we mounted some rocks on the bank of the stream toward the rising sun and overlooking a vast region of country, and there poured forth a sacred melody in our heart's content—The echo was glorious Verily we thought our feet were set on a large place—and we could readily imagine that the wide creation had found a tongue with which our own could join in unison

At the hour appointed we assembled in the camp, and engaged in the exercises of a religious conference It was good to be there—The scene finds its portraiture in the words of Cowper,

> "The calm retreat, the silent shade
> With prayer and praise agree,
> And seem by thy sweet bounty made
> For those who follow thee
> Then, if thy spirit touch the soul
> And grace her mean abode,
> Oh with what peace and joy and love,
> She there communes with God"

It is not too much to say that we enjoyed a measure of real experience The day—the place—the topics of remarks—the songs of Zion—all encircled by a kind Providence, and made effective by the presence of God will ever be worthy of a grateful remembrance

In the afternoon by request, Rev Mr Mansell addressed us from the 11th verse of the 145th Psalm—'They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom and talk of thy power "Our position added deep interest to the theme of discourse and naturally furnished much ground for illustration Indeed, the entire services of the day were attended with peculiar influences, being had under circumstances as widely different from the ordinary life of the company

That Sabbath was our delight even in the face of a possible deficiency in food But the course adopted imparted bodily rest and a peaceful mind

We had travelled with burdens on our backs twenty five miles—crossed several streams—climbed rough hills—walked on rocky places—tumbled over huge trunks of fallen trees—crowded through plenty o jungle—waded the Avalanche Brook—and all this in forbidding weather—but aside from the glorious view on the summit of Katahdn, our toil found its recompense in the novelty and influence of a sabbath observance on such an elevation, and amid the wild scenes and solitudes of a mountain far out

Scarcity of food and the engagements of some of the party made it necessary to Monday morning to start for home We left the camp about half past nine following down the brook to the point from whence we ascended, and then direct to the lake 'At this time,' says our guide, 'we fell into much confusion on account of two of the company who were missing, the gunner and Mr Mowry for whom we made search but in vain Few can imagine our feelings, save those who have heard the cry of lost coming up from the deep gloom of the wilderness in the native tone of some wanderer calling for help After consultation it was resolved that we must leave the ground for home, hoping for the best We left at one, and came to the lake at four P M—and here, to our great joy we saw a smoke on the opposite side near the outlet, and at five rejoined our missing companions They had caught trout enough for us all, weighing from one to three pounds—With these and cranberry sauce in plenty, also bread, pork and tea, we made merry around a cheerful fire This night, however, a storm of rain coming up loudly as poorly prepared

In this connection an incident may be related Just before our arrival, while the gunner was fishing, suddenly two moose bounded furiously into the lake, and appeared to be swimming towards him Though all along desirous of an interview, this time I was rather too startling—He scampered with all haste to the shore seized his gun and fired, but the balls wouldn't go through the hide which at that season afforded protection, and so the moose escaped

The night just entered to wear a time of realities Truth proved stranger than fiction' And assuredly for the last, the axe had been left on the mountain A pile of logs lay near the outlet of the lake With snow of these our evening companions had made a fire—some formed the floor of the camp, and others used as rafters were covered with boughs for protection, but not from rain On the above floor, (the spot allowing no other,) no boughs at hand could make a downy bed Every one found out that the was composed of fresh and brave—It also became Elijah to replenish the fire, so that the heat was of enormous size Contrary winds would ever and anon drive the smoke into the camp and thus make most inveterately weeping The scene was fast and few could find sleep without stealing it It was visible darkness all around Towards midnight the rain commenced One of the party, wishing to get other than Canada in December, says 'Old Mt Katahdn from this place looks dreary enough. Its snow-capped top often reminds me of our company already there; but nothing in all our travels affords more amusement or excites of delightful interest than the night on the Penobscot. That old cloud about dropping in the water—its outspread upon a log without the camp—raining—The morning light is breaking,' when it was only one o'clock and then again—'He is all come down, like reindeer—all together like letters impression on my mind not soon to be effaced'

The occupant of that cloud, unable to sleep, conversed with the 'daughters of music,' and who prompted to sing the night out, and the mornings in; and as the rain increased, the whole crew joined heartily in the chorus Our departure from such lodgings was very early Beneath continual droppings from the trees and bushes, we pressed through an obstinate pathway and arrived at the Wassataquoik camp at half past nine This march was really toilsome but brought us out at the desired point After a long rest we followed the old supply road most of the way to the head of the Wassataquoik, and camp out opposite Mr Hunt's whence the batteaux took us across the East Branch Then was a little past four o clock, P M Our appearance was far from beautiful— our 'external countenance rather ragged and torn and our appetites keen as a 'Damascus razor' 'Mine host' and family received us most cordially having felt some anxiety in our absence They made us joyful around a full table of good things On the day following Wednesday, we passed to Mr Cushman's, and on Thursday took conveyances for home The object of our visit had in prospect the welfare of body and mind, now was it unattained The company were harmonious and concerned for the mutual good Devotion ushered the morn and closed the eve of each day It sweetened our intercourse with friends on the way The workings of a good providence were often remarked Every trouble was overbalanced by comfort. Circumstances of danger there were, but no essential harm occurred to life or limb—Fears there were but all were abated Almost every important desire had its timely fulfilment Experience taught us, however, the need of a better outfit for a scene of exposure

It is a debt of justice and a privilege to say that, our memories will ever return with pleasure, many threads of kindness connected with our romantic expedition, from the people in the region visited

'On my return from the last journey,' says Mr Keep, 'I found a road leading from the Wassataquoik nearly to the height of land within two miles of the lake Arrangements are now made to have the remainder cut out early next summer There are only two miles to cut to the lake, and five from thence to the foot of the slide, or into the Basin When this is done, any one may go to Katahdn' that wishes'

Meanwhile, patience and other virtues are required if one would plant his feet upon the summit of the highest mountain in Maine May be that Penobscot will show especial favor to those who encounter the most obstacles in their efforts to reach his grand and stormy abode

On the way to Katahdn, and on its lofty heights our hearts were no strangers to emotions and utterances of praise to God, whose power and goodness were so manifest in the work of his hands, and in his loving kindness toward us Occupying the loftiest pulpit in the State, and with an immense audience before us who could refrain from shouting in the beautiful language of Scripture—"Praise ye him, sun and moon praise him, all ye stars of light, mountains and all hills, fruitful trees and all cedars, beasts, and all cattle, creeping things and flying fowls—let every thing that hath breath praise the Lord.' H P

Bangor Feb 8, 1848.

☞ The Baltimore Sun gives the following

A new looking chap, rather green in the routine of banking operations, called in at one of our city banks, a few days since, and after making due enquiry as to the name of the bank, observed to the teller, while he displayed his proportions to the best advantage, "Do you see me sir?" and immediately walked out, leaving the officer somewhat puzzled as to the why and wherefore of the question. Upon the next day he again presented himself at the counter, and after asking the same question, walked quietly off Astonished at the repetition of so odd an affair, and expecting a joke of some kind, the teller determined that if the singular customer should return again, he would put a mark upon him the better to know him in future Accordingly, upon the individual presenting himself on the next day for the third time, he was met with the ink sponge deeply between the eyes "Ha, ha, sir, I guess you'd rather too late to come that game on me now; I rather guess you've had three days sight, boy," the quiz one, "to down with the dust, at the same time producing a draft for $100 at three days' sight I'm blow d if I did not guess you did not know I had this little bit of paper in my pocket when you looked at me the other two days, you can't find anything green in this shop, I rather guess'—Our informant left the teller explaining the nature of "three days sight to his cute customer

Disclosure of an Anti-Rent League.

The anti rent Indians, near Hudson, have had an organized association of 27 "picked men" for perpetrating outrages upon their rent paying neighbors Burning barns, destroying barn yards, robbing hen-roosts, &c, were their chief occupations One of their number, (Pierce Allen) last week seized the whole affair, and surrendered himself to the authorities at Hudson

These men were accustomed to assemble at a certain place in the woods, at midnight, armed, and disguised with masks, calico dresses, &c, in the costumes of "mourners," the Indians were harranged by their chiefs, whom they are sworn to obey. They will be arrested of course.

Highly Commendable.

The Boston Traveller states that on Friday a gay, a little forlorn and desolate boy, came in to the Center Watch House for protection from the cold and lodgings for the night He belonged in Thomaston, Me, and arrived in this city penniless The watchmen, notwithstanding the numerous cases of misery which come to their observation, heard his story, and upon his stating that he had friends in Worcester who would care for him, generously contributed a sum sufficient to convey him there He was made comfortable for the night, furnished with a substantial breakfast in the morning and placed in safety on board the cars for his destination—The grateful look and happy face of the boy, will no doubt, when brought to remembrance by the benevolent givers, during the lonely watches of the cold and bitter nights, produce a warmth of heart, which will set at naught the slumberous efforts of old Boreas

☞ The editor of the New York Mirror, writing from Washington, says "Mr Vinton, the chairman of the committee of Ways and Means, gave the House a dose of statistics to-day, which will be likely to throw Wall street and Secretary Walker into fits of "blue devils" Mr Vinton estimated the expenses of the coming fiscal year at $53,000,000, and sets down the revenues from customs and the sale of public lands to $20,000,000, or to use a boorish phrase, Uncle Sam is prospectively "short" $37,000,000 In other words, we are going beyond our income at the rate of $37,000 000 per annum, just for the pleasure of fighting the Mexicans

[Boston Atlas

It is estimated that failures and the times have reduced the manufacture of print goods at least 25,000 pieces a week This, it is thought will prevent any further decline in price The N Y. Express states that large sales of prints have taken place in that city the past week, both at private sale and auction, at barely remunerating prices.

Patrick Murphy, of the Roman Catholic Church, New Brighton, Staten Island, died on Friday, of typhus fever, caught at the Quarantine Hospital in the discharge of his minutest duty

Mr. Clay.

Washington, Feb. 11.

The Supreme Court room was densely crowded by persons anxious to hear Mr Clay speak. He commenced his speech with a splendid exordium, alluding to the anxieties of personal interest in coming to Washington

He had been highly gratified at the manifestation of respect he had met with from old friends of the bar and members of Congress, as well as private citizens.

The manifestations of respect were flattering to him in his declining years It was usual with the Court to extend peculiar leniency to young practitioners Though not of that class, he might have need of indulgence with those not having familiarity with the practice of the bar

Mr. Clay was looking remarkably well His voice was admirable, and the audience deeply attentive

Houses for Laborers.

A society exists in Edinburg, for promoting the comfort of the working classes. A large piece of land is bought in the suburbs, which is covered with suitable buildings, watered and drained from central reservoirs. All things (land and materials) are bought at wholesale for ready money, and the best machinery, with steam power is used. The work is also pushed most actively when labor is at least request.—In this way a saving of fully one-half is effected in the cost of a dwelling over the usual expense to the poor, who pay exhibitant rates for lots or ground rent and for credit on material Some 10,000 working men belong to the Association, each of whom pays a monthly contribution—The houses, at low comparative rents, pay full interest, so as to induce capitalists, from other than benevolent motives, to contribute largely to the fund Every contributor receives his share of the rentals and when he desires to buy (for his own use only) he is entitled to his choice of unsold houses at nearly the cost price payable in very small monthly installments—By this plan, model of small rooms in dirty alleys and courts, good sized, well ventilated rooms are provided, with wide streets and cheap omnibus conveyance to the town, the cost to the work ing man is less than one-half of the usual rate paid by the laboring classes in the old way.

BY THE LAST MAIL.

The War, &c.—Additional Rumors from Mexico.

Translated from the N O La Patria, Feb. 4th.)

By the schooner Decatur, which arrived at daylight yesterday, from Vera Cruz, letters have been received from that port up to the 24th of January. A friend of ours has kindly permitted us to use his correspondence, which comes from a most highly respectable person in that city; we make the following extract —

VERA CRUZ, 24th Jan, 1848

As for the news from the interior, I have but little worthy of your notice to communicate.—Everything remains in statu quo, but it is rumored that an express has just arrived from Orizaba, which brings the news of Santa Anna having made a pronunciamento, and published one of his proclamations calling for 20,000 men with whom to carry on the war I do not know as yet from whence this rumor has come, but I shall make all enquiries into its truth, and if it proves to be so, and I can obtain a copy of this pronunciamento, I will send it to you by the first opportunity

I do not believe, however, that it will produce much effect, nor need you fear any recommencement of hostilities In this State and its vicinity Santa Anna has but few friends We regret, says La Patria, that neither the proclamation nor any other details have come to hand by this vessel.

The Instigators of the War.

A correspondent of the N Y Tribune writes to that paper the following important information:

WASHINGTON, Feb 11, 1848

I have just learned something rather in relation to the early amicable intentions of this Administration toward Mexico It has come out in evidence before the Committee on Military Affairs, in the Senate, that Capt Gillespie, of the Army, was dispatched in 1845 to Colonel Fremont then in Upper California, with a letter in cypher, directing the Colonel so to shape his course there as to excite a rebellion against the authority of Mexico, of which he could take advantage so as to effect the independence of California, and prepare her for annexation to the country—in other words, to Houstonize it—It may not be literally true, but it seems truthlike—so far as has been known of the previous career of this Administration

It is undoubtedly substantially true

☞ A heavy fall of snow at the South has detained the mails and Post Express—therefore no news

Wistar's Balsam at Home.

Boston, April 14, 1846.

Mr Seth W Fowle,

Dear Sir:—I have been induced at the suggestion of many of my friends, to make known to the public through you, the great benefit I have derived from the use of the medicine called in the hope that others suffering from lung complaints may find the same relief from its use that I have done

The latter part of last summer, and in the fall, I suffered greatly from a severe cough, pain in the side, difficulty of breathing, loss of appetite, and other symptoms which indicated a rapid decline. Three of the most learned and intelligent medical practitioners pronounced my case consumption, and that nothing but a change of climate could be of the least possible benefit to me, as my lungs were in a very inflamed and diseased state At it is time, in hopes I might find a temporary relief for my cough, I bought a bottle of the Balsam, which not only gave me the relief that my failing strength required, but seemed to give me new life and energy

After taking several bottles of the medicine, my appetite returned, and with it my strength; my cough entirely left me, so also the night sweats, which prevented me this had been very profuse In five weeks' time I gained 5 pounds of flesh, and have been able, after once to take my accustomed exercise, a walk of from three to four miles a day, and attend to my regular business. I should be most happy to have you refer any one, who may wish for further particulars, to me at my place of business, No. 305 Washington st. Very truly yours,

WM H. HOLBROOK.

None genuine unless signed I. BUTTS on the wrapper.

For sale wholesale and retail by GEO. W. LADD, Bangor. Sold also by dealers generally throughout the State. 3tddaw f14

☞ A VOLUNTARY WITNESS FOR JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.

John Van Valkenburgh, Esq., writes to Hector Jayne Sept 28, 1846, and says I cannot adequately express my sense of the value of your family Medicines, feeling fully satisfied that if I had not taken your Expectorant, I should before this day have been in my grave In the month of August, 1846, I had a very severe attack of Typhus Fever and inflammation of my Lungs, which reduced me very low. In a few days after my fever left me, and I began to gain strength; I had a bad cough and raised large quantities of matter from my lungs or stomach As my strength increased, my cough also increased I told my physician that I wanted to take your Expectorant.—He thought it was not best.

He made me some syrup for my cough, which I took for two or three weeks, but it did me no good. My cough still increased, so much that my stomach and lungs felt as if they were all raw, when it was a mercy I obtained a very large amount, and it appeared to me that I rose me had off as many people I have seen in the last cases of consumption. I finally concluded that I had the consumption, and that I could but live but a short time I therefore determined to be my own physician—sent to Catskill for half a dozen bottles of your Expectorant, and commenced taking it, and in less than seven or four hours there was quite a change in my feelings and before I had taken two bottles of it, I was restored to my usual health

I sold two or three bottles to a Lady in this place. She was told me within three weeks, that she believes that it has been the means of saving her life. If you think what I have stated, to be worth publishing, you are at liberty to do so.

Respect fully yours,

JAMES VAN VALKENBURGH, P. M.

...The copious VOCABULARY OF MODERN GEOGRAPHICAL NAMES with their pronunciation, and the greatly enlarged and improved edition of Walker's Key to the pronunciation of Classical and Scripture proper names, are important appendages to the ...dictionary.

...A year has passed since this Dictionary was published, and its already extensive use, both among educated English readers, and even of wide learning, affords good testimony of its merits. We consider it as continuing an ample and ...view of the present state of our language.

STOVE WAREHOUSE,

Cooking Stove. American Air-Tight.

Over 1000 OF THE American Air-Tight Cooking Stoves

WERE RETAILED in Boston by Gardiner Chilson, in the shortspace of six months, and a large number have been sold by myself in this city. This Stove is not equalled by any other stove in the United States, and the unparalleled sales it has met with fully bespeak its unparalleled merits.

HOUSE-KEEPERS should be sure and examine this superior Stove, which has won the admiration of several thousand house-keepers the past season. It has more real and useful improvements than all others combined. The fire-brick Oven-top has proved to be of great value in absorbing the steam and causing the bread to rise and bake light, equal to the brick oven. The brick is found to be more durable than the iron top. It also equalizes the heat around the oven, and a much more even bake is produced in this stove than any other stove known. It has a most perfect arrangement for roasting in front. The Steamer arrangement for broiling, boiling, toasting, &c., is complete. The grate clears itself, discharging the ashes into the ash-pit. The flues are large, and so arranged as not to fill up with ashes. It is surprising to see how small an amount of fuel it requires to perform so great a variety of cooking. Its unrivalling appearance, substantial construction, and general good qualities, have set it forth to be

FOR THE PILES!

A Cure for Life Secured.

For the Security of the Lives of the Inhabitants of Boston, Mass. Ashley and Hale of Hartford, Conn. More especially Residents of the Valley of the Connecticut River.

THE VEGETABLE INTERNAL REMEDY, prepared by DR. EPHAM, of New York, is now offered to the public for the astonishing cure of PILES.

Much has been said in DECLARATORY REMEDY of this kind, but the public have been deceived, and justly so by the many worthless nostrums, which have appeared, and disappeared, after having done more harm than good.

Each individual case, however, is not to be depended upon for the general cure of all, but the unexampled success which has attended the use of this Remedy in the cure of PILES, in almost every instance, is sufficient to warrant the general cure.

Each bottle contains directions for use, and will be accompanied with certificates of cures, which can be relied on.

All letters (post paid) addressed to the Doctor, will receive prompt attention.

Sold by the Agents in Boston, Mass. Hartford, Conn. Albany, and Rochester, New York, and by the principal Druggists throughout the country.

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla and Buck.

THESE articles when mixed are the principal ingredients of this medicine. With these others of vegetable origin are combined, designed to relieve the more active, and consequently more immediate effects.

The Buck, or rather a species of it, now ranks as a medicinal plant, second to none of the vegetable kingdom. With the aid of a chemist of this city, whose the completion of the compound, he has succeeded in overcoming the difficulty of preserving the extract in the most for any considerable length of time.

But many years the proprietor has tested in his practice, the efficacy of the principal substances of this compound and is perfectly convinced that the possess all the properties which have been ascribed to them. Recently is conceived the idea of combining the whole, and has resulted in the production of the article now offered to the public.

A large portion of Sarsaparilla is soluble than has generally been supposed. The extract must to be relished by the most tender stomach, as it is used by subscribing his name to the article of the compound, which is really surprised in extracting its virtues, for a long time without heat or any other acrid or irritating agent. None is permitted to be used in the compound, that is not been obtained by the personal and immediate attendance of the proprietor.

For Consumption is now common. Liver Sarsaparilla, Chronic Affections, Rheumatism, Erysipelas, and Mercurial Diseases. All for the time these maladies arising from or fostering complaints, occasion much of a harrowing and fatiguing nature, intense agony, and, ever two extremes of heat and cold, are frequently the attendants of these and other diseases of the constitution among which are Neuralgia, Piles, Cramp in the Limbs, Bilious Complaints and Fits in persons or infants.

In diseases of warm climates, with which the proprietor has come familiar in his practice in Havana, Cuba, Mexico, Jamaica, &c. this compound will prove particularly valuable, both internally and applied externally.

This is no one has been for some time in the cities, where the proprietor has passed nearly all of his winters with private personal life. It has extensively prescribed in the hospitals while in practice, and in the hands of skilful physicians in the United States and Europe.

It is put up only by Dr. Stephen Cummings, and sold at retail by him at 42 Cedar st. New York, 153 Middle street and Exchange and Mason, No 153 Middle st. Portland, and by agents in Portland
